

Claim Payment Overview

To receive your health insurance benefits, you or your doctor must file a claim with Nippon Life Insurance Company of America (NLIA). If your provider is in your plan's network, the billing office will generally file the claim for you. If you see a doctor outside the plan's network, you may have to file the claim yourself. All claims should be submitted on a UB-92 or a HCFA-1500 Claim form along with any pertinent information related to the services being billed. These items may include, but are not limited to, other insurance explanation of benefits, office notes, medical records or receipts for services paid out of pocket. A claim form may also be obtained at the following link: <http://www.nipponlifebenefits.com>. All claims should be sent to the below address:

All services are subject to medical necessity and may be subject to a medical review. NLIA utilizes Independent Review Organizations to determine whether services are generally accepted and/or medically necessary. NLIA will request the required documentation needed and you will be notified if a review is being conducted. After a claim is processed you and your provider will receive an Explanation of Benefit (EOB) form. This will explain how the claim was adjudicated. If you disagree with the processing of a claim, you have the right to appeal. The form for submitting an appeal is included for you in the EOB and can be sent to:
